The Federal Elections

It is a commonplace in all election campaigns for speakers to declare that that particular election contest is the most vitally important one ever held in the history of the country. To some extent, perhaps, such a statement is correct, because, as time passes and a country grows in population and wealth, coupled with the onward march of education, science and invention, national issues and problems become greater and more complex, and naturally more is at stake in reaching a right or wrong decision than was the case in years past when we lived in other and less strenuous times.

In one respect at least such a declaration of this year has a weight and meaning that ordinarily does not attach to it. Usually the people of Canada are given an opportunity of passing judgment upon the men who administer their domestic affairs, and recording their verdict on domestic questions, every four or five years. It is, however, ten years since the people of this Dominion had an opportunity to make their wishes known in regard to policies having a direct bearing on questions of domestic concern.

In the last general election in Canada domestic questions were not up for consideration, and they played but a small part with the electors in the marking of the ballots. The issue in 1917 was a war issue. It opened the mind of the people to the exclusion of everything else. It eliminated old party lines and broke party allegiances extending over generations. Tariffs, financial administration, domestic problems of all kinds, were thrown, temporarily at least, into the discard. The issue in the minds of the people, practically to the exclusion of everything else, was whether the Military Service Act should stand or fall.

Thousands of Conservatives who in 1917 voted for Liberals and Liberal-Unionists, and thousands of Liberals who voted for Conservatives and Conservative-Unionists, and in so doing sunk all party views, confidently expected that, as soon as the war was over, they would be given an opportunity to express their views on the purely domestic questions. Three years have passed since the signing of the Armistice, and the long waited opportunity has now come. For the first time since the Reciprocity election of 1911, the people of Canada will, on December 6th next, declare their will in regard to matters of policy and administration affecting purely domestic affairs. No question of war, or Empire, or foreign policy is involved in the present contest. The issue can be decided with an eye and mind single to the individual voters conception of what is best for Canada in a purely domestic sense.

During the decade that has elapsed many things have transpired which cannot have failed to broaden the vision of the people of Canada. The war itself, and the after-effects of that great struggle, have left an indelible mark. In 1911 men only enjoyed the right of the franchise; on December 6 women will go to the polls and cast their ballots on a basis of full equality in citizenship with men. Questions vitally affecting the material welfare of the Dominion are to be decided, but there has arisen a new conception of the duty of government towards the social and moral well-being of the people who in themselves constitute the nation.

In 1911 doubts were cast, unjustly so, on the loyalty of many Canadians over whom, was, after all, solely a domestic question. But the war settled all doubts as to the loyalty of the people of the Dominion. They proved themselves Canadian and British both in the East and the West. The war settled the loyalty cry forever, thereby rendering a great service to this country, and any man who tries to resurrect it will prove himself a traitor to Canada and a mighty poor politician.

For these reasons alone it is well within the bounds of truth to say that the approaching election day is a most momentous one in the history of the country, and probably the most important since the dawn of Confederation. It presents an opportunity for the exercise of good citizenship for which all Canadians have been eagerly waiting. Old hard and fast party lines have been shattered, whether for good or ill time alone can tell. New ideas in government forms and methods are prevalent; the franchise has been broadened to its utmost limits; new party leaders are directing affairs; a new national conscience has been awakened.

It, therefore, behooves every man and every woman not only to exercise the right of their great national birthright—the marking of a free ballot—but to perform that act only after the most careful study of national problems and with intelligence and an eye single to the welfare of Canada. The popularity or personality of the individual candidate is of no use, but the voter cannot wisely be guided by that alone; he or she must take a bigger, broader look ahead and consider opposing policies in the light of present-day conditions and needs and the prospective requirements of the Dominion. Old party enthusiasms have waned, but let there be a new, greater and better enthusiasm on election day—an enthusiasm for Canada itself.

V.C. Awarded to American Soldier

Unknown Warrior First Non-Britisher to Receive Decoration

The Victoria Cross, Britain's most prized war decoration, never before placed on the breast of a man not a British subject, was bestowed upon the unknown American soldier buried in Washington.

Earl Beatty, admiral of the fleet, placed it on the flag, and saluted as he stepped back. Then, General the Earl of Cavan, representing the King in person, spoke briefly of the services this humble soldier had rendered not only to the United States, but the world, there in France.

Marshal Foch, of France, stepped forward, and with every show of feeling, placed above the quiet breast the Médaille Militaire and the Croix de Guerre. He cited this dead soldier for valor, speaking in French, saluted, and turned away to let General Foch bring forward and pin in place Italy's gold medal for bravery.

Minard's Liniment Used by Veterinaries

New Canal Needed

Panama Will Soon Be Too Small for World's Commerce

It is proposed that the American continent should be cut through again. The present Panama Canal is used by an ever-increasing number of ships, and all the authorities are agreed that in fifteen years' time it will be quite inadequate for the world's commerce.

There is a possibility that, instead of making a second canal at Panama, the Nicaraguan route may be followed. This was the original plan of the Americans before they took over the French works at Panama, and as far back as 1826 a survey was undertaken there on behalf of a British company.

On account of climatic causes ships would have to spend 48 hours more on the Nicaraguan route than by way of Panama, but against this the distance to San Francisco and New York ends of the Nicaraguan Canal would be 500 miles shorter than from the ends of the Panama Canal.

KEEP HEALTHY DURING WINTER

Colds and Diseases May Be Avoided if the Blood is Kept Pure

Do not let your blood get thin this winter. As people who have a tendency towards anemia, or bloodless, winter is a trying season. Lack of exercise and fresh air, and the more restricted diet, are among the many things that combine to lower the tone of the body and deplete the blood.

As soon as you notice the first feeling, lack of appetite and shortness of breath that are warning symptoms of thin blood, take a short course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Do not wait until the color has entirely left your cheeks, until your lips are white and your eyes dull. It is so much easier to correct thinning of the blood in the earlier stages than later. This is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. E. Williams, Elk Lake, Ont., who says: "I take great pleasure in letting you know the benefit I have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was in an anemic condition, and was very weak and run down. The least exertion would leave me breathless and it was with difficulty that I could get on my feet. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after the use of four boxes I felt like a new person. My whole system seemed filled with new energy and new life. I strongly recommend this medicine to all who feel weak, or run down."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip or fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drugs and cannot injure the most delicate system.

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Regina Man Thinks He Would Be Selfish Not To Relate Experience

"When a man has been benefited by a medicine like I have been by Tanlac I think it would be selfish of him not to come out and tell what he knows," said Aleck G. Munro, 1261 McTavish street, Regina, Sask.

"I haven't words to describe what I went through with on account of indigestion. No matter how careful I was about what I ate or how little I ate, I was sure to be bloated up with gas afterwards. Sometimes my breath would be cut off so I could scarcely breathe. I actually got to the point where I dreaded to go to the table, and I shudder now when I think of how I suffered.

"I feel like a new man now, though, thanks to Tanlac. Actually this medicine has done me more good than I ever dreamed was possible. I never have any trouble from indigestion now, although I have a splendid appetite. I sleep all night long without waking once, and get up in the morning feeling fine and I work better than I have in years. I certainly advise people who suffer as I did to take Tanlac. I am confident it will help them."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists and general merchants everywhere.

The Too-Anxious Mother

A certain Irish Member of Parliament, popular and a bachelor, had been very polite to the daughter of the house where he was visiting. When the time came for him to go, the too-anxious mamma called him in for a serious talk. "I'm sure I don't know what to say," she went on, "is reported all around that you are to marry Letitia Price. Just say that she refused me," quietly advised the parliamentarian.

Long Life Secret

Psychology and not medicine was given as the secret of longevity by Dr. A. A. Warner, of New York, in an address to the Allied Medical Association of America. Because the Bible says that a life shall be three score years and ten people expect to die when they reach that age, declared Dr. Warner. Given a sound constitution and a clean record, there is no reason why a man or woman should not reach 150 years. It is simply a matter of psychology and good living.

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.

Gentlemen—I have used Minard's Liniment and have found it a good remedy. After the hip I was ever well shaken up, having quite a number of bruises and cuts, but I applied to Minard's Liniment and I am now all right again. It healed the sores and made them heal faster. I first noticed the ad in the Montreal Standard and decided to try it. I found it so good that I am now using it on my own horse, and I think you will agree with me too.

Silence?

The reading lesson had begun, and it was Tommy's turn to read aloud. He came to the sentence, "Silence reigned in the house."
"Now," said the teacher, "can you tell me what silence is?"

Tommy thought for a minute, then said eagerly: "Yes, teacher, I know; it's what you don't hear when you listen."

"Pa, if it takes ten miles to make a cent, how many factories does it take?"
"One, my boy. If it's a glue factory,"

The Shortage of Homes

While not prepared to fully accept the statement recently credited to Canada's only woman cabinet minister that this Dominion stands in need of one million new houses, which would mean that at the present time something more than one-half our estimated population of nine millions of people lack reasonable housing accommodation—most Canadians will readily agree that the provision of additional housing is one of the pressing needs of this country. Canada, however, is not peculiar in this respect; it is a condition which prevails in practically all countries, and constitutes a problem that is engaging the attention of people in Great Britain, the United States and other countries.

Dealing with the housing problem in Great Britain a short time ago, Lloyd George uttered one of those epigrams for which he is noted, and compressed in a few words a truth which it is well all statesmen, in fact all citizens, should recognize. He said: "You cannot maintain an A-1 empire with a C-3 population. You cannot bring up healthy people in unhealthy homes."

A lack of adequate and proper housing accommodation means the resorting to makeshifts, to overcrowding of people and whole families in buildings where the necessary conditions of sanitation required to maintain health cannot be observed; it means the use for purposes of habitation of buildings which should not be devoted to such purposes; it means a loss of that privacy in family life, the loss of which so frequently leads to a laxity in morals; it means, in fact, the physical and moral deterioration of the people and a consequent weakening of the nation. The effect on babies and young children, who are the hope and citizenship of the future, is positively dangerous and alarming.

Socially and economically the result of inadequate and bad housing is just as serious as it is in a physical way. When people are cramped to live cluttered together in a state of congestion, or in habitations which are not fit for human beings, unrest and general dissatisfaction with the prevailing order of things is engendered, and, as inevitably Governments and the present system of industrial life and society are blamed, rabid socialism and even revolutionary ideas and doctrines are accepted and spread, discontent grows, and the very life of the State is threatened, the while the physical standard is being lowered.

Revolutionary ideas and extreme socialistic doctrines seldom find much acceptance among people who are the owners of the dwellings in which they live. Ownership of a bit of land, and a house which becomes a permanent home, is the best possible guarantee of contentment within and stability for a nation. In Canada it is frankly recognized that the large percentage of the population engaged in agriculture and living on land of their own, and the one outstanding reason why this Dominion has escaped to a greater extent than perhaps any other country the perils which have threatened the world following the upheaval of the Great War.

If not a million new houses, at least tens of thousands are required in Canada this year. Yet the prospect of obtaining them is remote unless some action is taken to meet the need. It cannot be met under existing conditions if left solely to individual effort, initiative, enterprise and available financial resources of individuals. Governments and municipalities have made some provision, but it is inadequate and haphazard in contrast with the importance and seriousness of the problem. Something further is required, and it would seem as if that "something" should be provided, not in the way of paternal Government assistance, but in the direction of encouragement of building operations all over the Dominion.

How is this to be done? In the humble opinion of the writer of this article, by Governmental action bringing about a lowering in the present costs of construction. Governments in Canada, Federal and Provincial, own and control millions of acres of forest and timber lands. They have it in their power to reduce the cost of lumber to the people of Canada by developing those resources on a large scale and in a scientific manner. By so doing they can provide employment for thousands of laborers and artisans, develop the natural resources of the country, and add immeasurably to the wealth and prosperity of the nation.

The cost of transporting needed commodities from one part of the Dominion to another has risen enormously in recent years because of increased freight rates. Admitting that increased rates were necessary to enable the railways to pay their way, it would nevertheless appear to be the part of statesmanship to reduce those rates on lumber and other building materials in order to build up the country.

Cheaper lumber is the first instance, and a lower cost for transporting it to those who want it and will gladly use it if they can obtain it at a reasonable price within their means, would operate as an immediate and tremendous factor in bringing about renewed building activity. This would provide an enormous volume of employment, and artisans with steady work and wages would soon begin to build homes for themselves. It would mean greater prosperity, less unrest, better health. Under present conditions even those who can possibly afford to build defer doing so because of a belief that sooner or later costs of construction will fall, and they would then be faced with a heavy depreciation in the value of properties constructed at present high prices. They, therefore, continue to occupy houses, paying unduly high rents for the time being, which houses would otherwise be made available at a more moderate figure for those who are not in a position to build for themselves.

Leg that Wouldn't Heal

"Ever since a boy of fourteen," writes Mr. John Redmond, of West Frampton, Que., "I had trouble with a bad leg. I used many remedies. Though some appeared to heal the ulcer for a while, it always broke out again as soon as it was healed. This last time I suffered continuously for nine years, and the old remedies had absolutely no effect."

"The limb was in such a awful state when someone advised me to get Zam-Buk right away, I had only used this herbal healer a few days when I began to see great improvement. So I continued the treatment, for even Zam-Buk needed time to have complete effect. However, I am glad to tell you that it was only by the aid of Zam-Buk that the leg was eventually thoroughly healed. Never again of the ulcer since."

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, and more likely to lead to the formation or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for the little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit to thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Intimate Conception, Que. writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by Dr. Wright and now I would not be without them." A Federal Research Bureau

Bill Providing For This Will Be Fathered by Sir George E. Foster. Provision for steps to be taken toward the equipment of a federal research institute on somewhat the same basis as the bureau of standards at Washington, will be made in a bill to be introduced in the house by George Foster, minister of trade and commerce.

The provision of a research bureau at or near Ottawa has been urged upon the government during the last two sessions by the honorary and advisory council for industrial and scientific research. It has been urged by the council and by the members of the special parliamentary committee on scientific research that the establishment of a research bureau here was absolutely necessary if Canada was to take her proper place in industrial and scientific development.

"The proposals which were laid before the government called for an expenditure of about a half a million dollars for buildings and equipments, but it is understood that this estimate has been somewhat modified and that the initial outlay would not be more than $200,000 for the first year.

A Gruesome Paradise

Russia Dying Before the Eyes of a Helpless World.

After a little over three years of Soviet rule Russia lies dying before the eyes of a helpless world. "What was to have been the triumph of Marxian Socialism has become a disaster, which has involved in mental and physical suffering many millions of human beings, besides sweeping away all the foundations upon which their prosperity rested. When Lenin, Trotsky and Chicherin seized the reins of power towards the close of 1917 they proclaimed a Communist Government with a Constitutional Assembly—which has never assembled from that day to this—in which the last word as well as the first word would lie with the workers." At last the great masses of Russia, whether living in the towns or engaged in various agricultural pursuits in the countryside, were to come into their own. What has been the sequel?—London Daily Telegraph.

Hawaii Using Volcanoes

Scientists Claim Volcanic Gases Have Limitless Possibilities.

The volcanoes of Hawaii, whether dead or alive, are working for, or are going to be made to work for the people. Honolulu has just tapped the extinct crater of Palolo, overlooking the city, and is getting therefrom 2,000,000 gallons of drinking water daily. Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, is raising a fund to tap the active volcano Kilauea and utilize the tremendous volume of gases there for industrial and other purposes. Scientists say that pentup volcanic gases have limitless possibilities from an industrial and power standpoint, while they also contain all the food elements necessary to sustain the human body—carbon, nitrogen, hydrogen and lime.

China Wants Chance To Play Her Part In World Advancement

Washington.—Preservation of "territorial integrity and political and administrative independence" together with preservation of the open-door policy and a prohibition against secret treaties in the Far East were included in the Chinese proposals at the Armament Conference on Far Eastern questions.

China in return would agree "not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory" to any foreign power, and all special rights, privileges, immunities or commitments, now held in China by foreign powers are to be carefully re-examined.

All existing limitations upon China's political, jurisdiction and administrative freedom of action would be removed and provision made for future conferences from time to time for international discussion of the far eastern situation.

The Chinese proposals provide for full respect for China's rights as a neutral in all future wars to which the nation is not a party and for peaceful settlement of international disputes in the Pacific and the far east.

Dr. Wellington Koo, who presented the Chinese proposals, said they were made in the interest of all powers involved in the Far East as well as of China and if adopted would be a way toward solving some of the perplexing problems in laying a firmer foundation of the Pacific and Far East.

"China is anxious to play her part, not only in maintaining peace, but in promoting the material advancements and the cultural developments of all the nations. She wishes to make her vast natural resources available to all peoples who need them, and in return to receive the benefits of free and equal intercourse with them. In order that she may do this, it is necessary that she should have every possible opportunity to develop her political institutions in accordance with the genius and needs of her own people. China is contending with certain difficult problems which necessarily arise when any country makes a radical change in the form of government.

"These problems she will be able to solve if given the opportunity to do so. This means not only that she should be free from danger of threat of foreign aggressions but so far as circumstances will possibly permit, she be relieved from limitations which now deprive her of autonomous administrative action and prevent her from securing adequate public revenues.

Increase in Value of Building Permits

Total of Fifty-Six Canadian Cities Shows Gain

Ottawa.—The total value of building permits in 56 Canadian cities during September last was $9,988,157 as compared with $9,651,085 in August, and with $10,174,181 in September of last year.

Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia registered gains over the preceding month, while New Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan reported decreases.

Rebels Attack British

One Officer and Three Men Killed by Moplahs

London.—A Reuters cable from Delhi, India, says a company of the Gurkha Rifles Regiment, holding the Pandikhat post, had a sharp engagement with 2,000 Moplah rebels, who attacked vigorously. Two-thirds of the rebels were killed, while one British officer and three men were killed and 34 men wounded. One gun and a number of knives were captured. The record of other operations also discloses the use of artillery by the rebels.

Germany Able to Pay

Berlin.—The report that Germany has notified the allies that she will be unable to meet the next reparations installment is emphatically denied in official German quarters. A similar denial is made in entente diplomatic circles which are in close touch with the negotiations now proceeding with the reparations commission.

Factory Explosion Kills Twelve

Accident in Prussia Forty Miles North of Oppau.

Mayence.—Twelve people have been killed and 60 injured in an explosion in a factory at Doheln, a short distance from Wiesbaden, Prussia. The damage to the factory is estimated at $5,000,000.

General Degoutte, commander of the French troops in that district, visited the injured and his men assisted in the rescue work. Steps are being taken by the French to relieve the distress of the survivors. Doheln is 40 miles north of Oppau, where an explosion in a plant on September 21, killed 1,000 persons, injured about 4,000 others and laid in waste the entire factory and the village at Oppau.

Britain Denies Soviet Charge

Says Evidence of Bolshevik Propaganda Not Based on Forgeries

London.—The British Government, it was announced, has handed the Soviet Government at Moscow a firmly worded note absolutely denying the allegations of Foreign Minister Chicherin that the British evidence of hostile Bolshevik propaganda in Central Asia and Afghanistan was founded on forged documents, German or otherwise. The note declares that the Soviet reply of Sept. 26 to the former note of Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, apart from the allegations now denied by Lord Curzon consisted chiefly of quibbles regarding positions held by officials and that no attempt was made to answer the very serious charges of Russian hostile propaganda in Persia or Central Asia.

Cattle Shipped From Montreal

Big Revival of Export Trade Is Looked For

Montreal.—A big revival of the Canadian export cattle trade to Great Britain is now to be regarded as certain as far as Montreal port is concerned. Up to date, thirty thousand head of Canadian cattle have been shipped to Britain during the past six months and with several ships still to be loaded, the thirty-five thousand mark may be reached before the season closes.

Britain Disposing of War Supplies

London.—The government is rapidly disposing of the large amount of war stocks. Surplus stores worth $267,500,000 have been disposed of since the armistice. Liquidation is practically completed on the continent, and it is hoped shortly to close down in Egypt.

Believes No Danger Of Indian Revolution

Detroit, Mich.—Belief that there is no foundation for rumors of an impending revolution in India was expressed by Bishop M. L. Smith, of India, one of the speakers of the National Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Lack of friendship between the Mohammedans and Hindus would tend to prevent such a movement, he said. Bishop Smith declared British control of India must be continued, "if anarchy is to be averted."

British Press Doubts Wisdom Of Proposals Made By Balfour

London.—The modification to the United States disarmament proposals suggested before the conference at Washington by Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, have met with a varied reception at the hands of the press. The Westminster Gazette says that his statement shows cause for the very gravest misgivings and disappointment, and proceeds to note in particular his suggestion that the programme of battle-ships replacement be carried on from year to year to save armament works from total destruction.

"The suggested reservation," it says, "amounts to a proposal that we keep alive not only the vested interests of war but the whole spirit and tradition of naval competition as a sacred flame ready to burst into full blaze the moment the holiday is over."

The Daily News says regarding the suggestion that replacement be permitted continuously on a fixed scale: "This seems a dangerous breach of the whole conception of a naval holiday, which might well prove disastrous to the U.S. plan." It believes that the British public would support an absolute embargo on submarines.

The most antagonistic of the morning papers, The Morning Post, which dilates on Great Britain's exceptional position in the need to protect all lines of communication. British and her Dominions, it says, must be able to help one another across the oceans unhindered.

The Daily Mail declares that there is everything to be said for Mr. Balfour's suggestions as submarine warfare is most imminent.

The London Times quoted the Cape Town Times as saying that Secretary Hughes' proposal for a naval holiday marked the most remarkable event since the outbreak of the war.

Bandit Identified By Finger Prints

Believed Responsible For Mail Car Robbery Near Moose Jaw

Phoenix, Ariz.—A bandit captured here at the Santa Fe station, following an attempt to rob a mail car, was identified by finger prints as Roy Gardner, who recently escaped from the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island.

According to the police, Gardner admitted his identity.

Winchester, N.Y. Gardner, escaped convict from McNeil's Island penitentiary, reported arrested at Phoenix, Ariz., was credited by railway police with having been responsible for the robbery of an express car on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Moose Jaw on October 19, getting away with $5,000. On September 22 the Canadian National Railway express was held up at Tolled, Alta., several registered packages being stolen. Descriptions of Gardner, received from the Washington penitentiary, tallied with those of the bandit in both cases.

Moose Jaw.—Canadian Pacific investigation authorities here, when notified that Roy Gardner had been arrested, declared they were still convinced that Gardner robbed train No. 4 on the morning of October 19. It was stated Gardner would not likely be brought to trial on the Moose Jaw for which he already had a 99-year sentence ahead of him in the United States.

Canada Has Attained World's Second Place In Wheat Production

Canada has risen to second place among the wheat growing countries of the world, according to the statistics of the International Institute of Agriculture, and is now surpassed in this regard by the United States alone. The vaunted slogan "granary of the Empire" has come to justify a greater expansion in significance, for the golden fields of the Canadian West are going a long way towards feeding the people of the entire world.

Canadian wheat and wheat flour are now exported to the United Kingdom, United States, Belgium, British West Indies, France, Gibraltar, Italy, Netherlands, Roumania, St. Pierre and Miquelon, San Domingo, Sweden, Turkey, Venezuela, Bermuda, British Guiana, South Africa, West Africa, Canary Isles, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Dutch Guiana, Dutch West Indies, Egypt, French West Indies, Haiti, Newfoundland, Norway, Panama and other countries.

The history of the growth of Canadian agriculture and wheat growing forms a marvellous record of consistent progress. In a very short space of time the territory which so many said could grow no wheat has become the second in the world in the quantity produced and the first in quality. Since the Confederation of the Canadian provinces in 1867, at which time the history of Canada as a modern nation may be said to have commenced, whilst the population of Canada has trebled, the value of her field crops has multiplied twelve times and that of her annual wheat crop nearly twenty times, which is illustrative of the healthy state of agriculture and leaves no apprehension of the country's suffering at the expense of the rural sections in the building of urban centres.

The value of all field crops grown in 1870 was $111,116,606, and that of the wheat crop $16,995,266. In 1920 these values were respectively $3,455,244,040 and $427,357,500. In 1920 the Dominion obtained for the first time in her history a billion dollar crop, more than trebling the value of the crop grown a decade previously.

Agriculture is Canada's first industry and though other branches of national activity are rapidly increasing in importance, the pursuit of farming maintains a lengthy lead which it will no doubt maintain for many generations to come in spite of the extensive exploitation of resources which assuredly lies in Canada's immediate future.

Of the rich fertile plains of the Canadian West only about one-fifth of the area which has been declared fit for cultivation is occupied, and roughly, 200,000,000 acres of Lake Superior await parcelling out into farms and homesteads for the millions of immigrants to come.

The cultivation of this area at the same rate of production would give Canada an annual wheat yield of something round 1,400,000,000 bushels, or twice that of the present production of the entire United States.

Canada's rate of settlement and development is the only determining factor of the time when she will have attained the world's first place as a wheat producer both in quality and quantity.

Queensland, Australia, Not a Desert

Premier Hughes Resented Article in English Newspaper

Ruler's correspondent at Melbourne, Australia, says that Premier Hughes, speaking in the Australian House of Representatives, hotly resented an article in an English newspaper describing Queensland and Northwest Australia as a desert. He said the statement was an insult to him and those who made it knew they were lying. The territory mentioned, declared the premier, was well fitted to carry a large white population and stated that from these stations had rendered splendid service in the war.

A Strange Trade

Women in London's Poor Districts Earn Money "Selling" Nutmegs
A colony of women at Hackney, one of the poor districts of London, England, has a peculiar way of earning money. They "mend" nutmegs—that is to say, they fill up the holes in worn-out and damaged nutmegs from spice warehouses. This work is done at home, the worm holes being filled with a mixture of nutmeg dust and gum made into a paste; and the poor women for doing this are paid at the rate of 4 cents per gross of nutmegs. It may here be said that even close examination on the part of a casual purchaser could not detect where the holes had been.

Tibetans Have No Measures

Very Hard to Get Accurate Information About Distances

Colonel Howard Bury, leader of the Mount Everest expedition, writes: "After my arrival at Rhinowa we went down the Rognahai Valley. Many hermits in the valley were living in caves in the rocks, supported and fed by the nearest villagers. The blue smoke of juniper incense, burnt every morning outside the caves, showed the places where they lived. It is very hard to get accurate information from Tibetans as to distances. They have no measures, and no Tibetans will tell you the same story. For short distances we have been met with the astonishing reply that a place was distant two or three cups of tea, meaning the length of time takes to drink two or three cups of hot tea."

The Spool State

Maine Turns Out One Thousand Million Every Year

Maine is the spool state, also the spool state. It turns out more spools than any other country, and the number is set down as 1,000 millions a year, valued at about 1 1/2 million dollars. While the spool is the wood which makes the best spools. The wood is cut in winter, sawed into "bars" one-half to two and three-quarter inches square and two to four feet long. About two and one-third cords of timber are required for one thousand feet of bars. After sawing, the bars are piled cross-wise, in order to facilitate seasoning, and, protected from the weather, are allowed to cure. About fifteen million feet of bars are consumed by the spool factories, and an equal amount is exported to Scotland and England. The spool-making machinery is very interesting and an up-to-date machine turns out spools at the rate of one a second.

Aeroplane 500 B.C.

King of Ceylon Used Flying Machine in Very Early Days

A stirring piece of literature, written about 500 B.C., tells how Ravana, King of Ceylon, flew over an enemy army and dropped bombs, causing many casualties. Eventually, he was slain, and his "flying carriage" fell into the hands of the Hindu chieftain Ravana, who flew in it all the way from Ceylon to his capital at Ajodhya, in Northern India. In the Mahabharata, one of the oldest of Brahman epics, mention is made of the gift of a flying machine by a king to a brother monarch, as a token of friendship.

Canadian Railroads Safe For Travel

There is little chance of being killed or injured travelling on a Canadian railroad. According to figures just published there was only one passenger killed in 1919 to every 1,453,000 carried, and one injured to every 128,772 carried. Throughout the entire year there were only 35 persons killed and 372 injured. There were 162 employees killed and 1,941 injured.

Antients Had Valuable Jewels

Jewelry was much favored by the ancients, particularly by the ladies of Rome. Pliny says he saw Lollia Pallina, the most beautiful woman of her time, wearing ornaments of gold and precious stones valued at upwards of two million dollars of our money.

Japanese Horses Shod With Straw Shoes Wear Out In Eight Miles of Travel

Straw is put to strange uses in Japan where horses are shod with it. Even the clumsy cart horse wears straw shoes. In their case the shoes are tied round the ankles with straw rope, and are made of the ordinary rice straw, braided, so that they form a sole for the foot about half an inch thick. These shoes cost about a halfpenny a pair, and when they are worn out they are thrown away. Every cart has a stock of fresh new straw shoes to the horse, or to the front of the cart, and in Japan it was formerly the custom to measure distances largely by the number of horse shoes it took to cover it. So many horse shoes made a day's journey, and the average shoe lasted about eight miles of travel.

X-Rays In Industry

Used During War to Detect Defects in Materials

Little is known of the manner in which Röntgen rays were made use of during the war, says a scientific correspondent. They were used for instance in locating hidden defects in materials used for important purposes, such as the building of aeroplanes. At the moment industrial radiology is young, and care must be taken not to claim for it too much at such an early stage. Nevertheless, it has already shown that its possibilities outside the range of surgical applications are boundless, and for that reason the establishment of an Institute of Radiology in London is a project, which deserves every possible support.

The Spell of Quebec's Roadside Oven

A Quebec Roadside Oven. By courtesy of the C.P.R.

No housewife in America is so independent of the price of coal and oil as the habilitant woman of Quebec, with an out-of-door brick oven at her beck and call.

These roadside ovens—and nobody knows exactly what whim or fancy possessed the Quebecois mind for carrying his baking apparatus so far from home, unless it was fear of the roasting fire which must be set up in order to bake the large quantity of bread necessary to fill the many mouths of the grande famille—are not only landmarks in Quebec but indications of the habitant housewife's hospitality. They seem to say to the passer-by, "Now you know you are in Quebec, and Quebec is the land of home-made bread." Male out. Enter yours. For a mere song Madame will cut you some thick slices and bring out a pitcher of milk. Out, the grand oven is undoubtedly the symbol of Quebec! There is a friendly look about these old wayside ovens which arises out of the fact that they are made by hand and fit in perfectly with the landscape and the scheme of life in general obtaining in this province, so pre-eminently the land of the home-made.

In many months of tramping in Quebec we have encountered scores of these ovens. But because they are home-made, each one is different. Each architect builds to suit his own fancy or else to come into the possibilities as to shape and also contained in the material at hand. Looks are overcome with amasses of plaster and added coats of whitewash, till the oven often resembles a roasted cake. Or else an extra roof is attempted with bits of old board, and then the oven resembles some queer little mansion, a doll's house for the children to play in, or a large kennel for the chien that draws the little cart. Seeing these ovens for the first time you fancy yourself somewhere in the Old World. But then a similar fancy seizes you about everything in Quebec, which in atmosphere, is all foreign and different. On all occasions even in the matter of these ovens, Quebec is just herself. It is a Quebec baked and not the "little brick of France, nor yet the 'yardstick' just a four or five pound loaf that will cut the generous slice that the child at play, or garcon helping with the hay, finds satisfaction in.

These ovens along the Quebec roadside stand for two important factors in our national life. They stand for rural life, farm life and the development of the country parts. And they stand for family life without which attempts at rural development have proved vain. The women of Quebec are among the most hardworking women in Canada, and among the most contented. Given a little house with a curved roof, a tiny balcony and an out-of-door oven by the roadside, your habilitant woman asks nothing more of life except a host of children to eat her bread. Every day may be "baking day" for all she cares with grain growing in her own fields, for flour, and an oven of character that can always be stretched to hold another loaf.

The Need Of Canada At The Present Time Is Increased Population

Summer Home In Giant Flask

Is Three Stories High and Has Modern Conveniences

At Plais Island Lake, New Hampshire, situated among the trees is a giant flask, thirty-five feet in height and ten feet in diameter, which is made of wood and forms the main part of a summer home. Inside it is three stories high, containing a circular dining-room on the first floor and sleeping chambers of similar form on the second and third, with a stairlike ladder connecting them. Doors and windows have been cut in the curved sides, and an addition of bungalow shape has been built on at one side, to afford a conventional kitchen and living-room. Despite its odd shape, the queer summer camp is well furnished and provided with such conveniences as electric light and telephone service. The bottle formerly was an amusement park advertising sign for a popular soft drink, and was taken over and converted into a home by the present owner.

How Punch Got Its Name

Punch, it is said, came from the East Indies, and the name is claimed to be derived from the Sanskrit word meaning "five," on account of its five ingredients—rum, tea, sugar, lemon, and hot water.

For the five years 1909 to 1914, Canada received about 1,861,000 immigrants from all sources, or an average of 372,000 a year. If this rate had continued the successful immigration of the seven years would have brought the Dominion over 2,500,000 new citizens from outside. If for domestic reasons the pace had somewhat slackened, the increase in population during and since the war would surely have exceeded 2,000,000.

But the war intervened and the tide of immigration ceased to flow. The influx of newcomers fell off to a mere dribble. Great Britain and the continent of Europe were practically eliminated as sources of population and the stream of American settlers dwindled to a minimum. During the whole seven-year period we received only about 550,000 from all sources, or 2,000,000 fewer than might have been expected had the world's peace been undisturbed. Nor must it be lost for the fact that the outbreak of war and the progress thereof caused great numbers of newly arrived foreigners to leave the country. Tens of thousands joined the colors of the allied arm. Once the action of thousands fled to the United States to escape the draft. Add Canada's sixty thousand dead overseas and the children that should have been theirs. Altogether the action of Germany in July of 1914, 1915 and 1916 has robbed Canada of perhaps 3,000,000 men, women and children who otherwise would have been hers today.

This primarily is what is wrong with Canada at the present moment. But for the war the Dominion would have had more people on the land and consequently fewer unemployed in the towns and cities. Under such conditions the nation would have made some show at keeping pace with the overseas charges imposed by two new trans-continental railways constructed before their time. There would have been a growing volume of freight and passenger business, which naturally would have reduced the heavy deficits on these roads and gone far to place the whole country on a sound financial basis.

The lesson is plain. More population is the cure for Canada's fiscal and economic ills. The leeway lost during the last seven years must be recovered. Once the general election is over, the government of the day must devote special attention to the task of getting more people on the soil. From 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 acres of idle land along the western railways must be brought under the plow. There is ample room for tens of thousands of additional farmers in Old Ontario, New Ontario, British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces. Close settlement of the land will mean a growing volume of exports, a wider home market for the products of Canadian factories, the reduction of unemployment in towns and cities, healthier industrial conditions everywhere, rising public revenues, and a progressive easing of the per capita burden of national taxation.

The kind of settlers desired are available in adequate numbers in Great Britain, the United States, Norway, Sweden, and other approved countries. What is needed is a forward constructive immigration policy—a policy which while taking note of existing unemployment and safeguarding the interests of organized labor, will not only remove unnecessary obstacles to an intensive land settlement movement, but actively promote such a movement in keeping with the needs of the nation. In the working out of such a programme invaluable co-operation may be expected from the railways, the Provincial Governments, the Western Canada Colonization Association and other immigration agencies. That way lies the road back to national prosperity and economic stability for all classes in the community.

Memorial Clock Tower at Montreal

A memorial clock tower dedicated to the memory of the heroic services performed by the British navy and mercantile marine in the great war, has been erected on the waterfront at Montreal. It is a commanding site, visible from all sides. One of the naval guns recently presented to the city will each day fire a signal at noon, the time being relayed from McGill observatory.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delicious cereal beverage of satisfying flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger size) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared, made by boiling for 30 minutes.

A Big Radium Deal

Corporation of London Takes Output of Czechoslovak Mines

After prolonged negotiations, Mr. Sidney Reilly, on behalf of the Imperial and Foreign Corporation of London, has signed an agreement with the Czechoslovak Government for a monopoly of the entire output of radium from the Czechoslovak states mines.

The basis of the contract is that the radium mines remain the property of Czechoslovakia, but will be farmed out to the corporation for a number of years. This is one of great importance, because Czechoslovakia possesses practically the only radium mines in Europe. The present market price of radium is $35,000 (sterling) per gramme.—The London Times.

Coolies' Power of Endurance

Can Carry Heavy Loads Over Long Distances

According to an Indian traveller immense weights can be carried by coolies of the Himalayas, where the Mount Everest climbings are now.

This traveller says he has known personally plenty of instances where coolies, carrying merchandise to places where no wheeled transport is possible, have borne loads up 200 pounds day after day over rough roads, through steep hills and valleys; and it is a common thing for coolies to carry a tea-chest weighing 120 pounds for distances of six miles up a long ascent of over 3,000 feet.

The Modish Black Dress for Afternoon

By Marie Belmont

The black frock is still in high favor, although sometimes one may glimpse a touch of brilliant color in its sleeves, the lining of the waist or some other detail. This dress is fabricated from a rather heavy black crepe combined with black chiffon velvet. The latter is chosen for the development of the long-waisted and rather snug-fitting bodice. This is lavishly embroidered in jet. A band of the crepe outlines the neck opening, while the deep loose cuffs are also made of black crepe. This same decoration appears about the lower edges of the skirt.

Canada for the Canadians

What Is To Be Canada's Destiny?

Shall it be that through the destruction of the Tariff as proposed by both Crerar and King, the development of Canada is to come under the domination of the United States, to be followed by gradual financial domination and as a consequence, political domination?

OR

Is Canada's destiny to be that of a great free nation within the British Empire group of Nations, developing her boundless resources of mine, river, water power, forest, and cultivating her millions upon millions of acres of arable land? Is her development to surpass that of any other nation?

Shall her manufacturing industries develop her minerals and raw materials into implements and goods for the benefit and comfort of her people and for foreign trade?

Shall she become a self-contained nation within the Empire, her great railways interchanging, the products of factory and farm among her own people, and her ships sailing every sea?

Shall she maintain her integrity within the Empire and protect her farms and factories against unfair competition from foreign countries?

IF THIS IS TO BE CANADA'S DESTINY THEN CANADA NEEDS MEIGHEN.

On December 6th, Canada should once again protect her farms, her factories and her workmen against the unsound theory of Free Trade, and should hold fast to her reasonable Protective Tariff, her national entity and her British connection.

On December 6th Canada should declare with no uncertain voice that she will not tolerate the false trade theories of visionaries and group leaders which tend toward her economic destruction, toward the separation of her people and the weakening of the ties that bind Canada to the British Empire.

On December 6th Canada should demonstrate unmistakably to the outside world her fixed determination to keep Canada for the Canadians.

On December 6th Canada's destiny is at stake.

Crossfield Garage

The next meeting of the C.Y.F.S. will be the Social Evening.

A special attraction will be put on by ten of the members. We are not in possession of all the details in connection with this attraction, but we understand it is exemplifying the tragedy the rooster started in connection with "The House that Jack Built".

Most of the originals that were connected with this will be on exhibition.

It has also been arranged to have the Election results given out as they are flashed over the wire.

Come and enjoy the evening, and at the same time get the Election results.

Death of Mr. W. Thompson

The sad death of Mr. W. Thompson occurred at his home near Crossfield, on Wednesday morning, about 9-30, after an illness extending over about two years. Deceased illness had been somewhat complicated with heart trouble being the chief factor. Rev J. P. Berry B.A. of Calgary, and Rev. R. K. Swenerton B.A., B.D. will officiate.

The heartfelt sympathies of a large community of friends are extended to the bereaved.

A list of the subscribers will be published from week to week.

Crossfield Young People's Society

Tuesday night last, was certainly the night of the season in connection with the Young People's Society. Many thought that the proceedings being in charge of the ladies, they would be a failure, but when it was announced that there would be a Hat-Trimming contest, everyone was eager to see what was being sprung, and the number present was very creditable indeed.

Graduates from almost every millinery school was represented, there being sixteen contestants. During the time allotted for the gentlemen to show their skill much talented genius was displayed, but the procession, with Car-nation leading was indeed a sight to behold. The judges, Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Purvis had a very difficult task when the hats were assembled before them, but finally gave the following decision:

First Prize—Chas. Purvis.
Second Prize—Laurence Ontkes.
I am sure that the opinion of all present was that the night was a tremendous success, and much thanks is due to those in charge.
Next Tuesday night will be a Social time, when the original House that Jack Built, may be seen. Come and see it.
